

Hotel cheques into Foundation

March 19, 2012

"We are extremely grateful for the specialized services at London Health Sciences Centre and are proud to give back to the highest priority needs of the hospital," says Jaglowitz.

As part of their corporate philosophy, helping build a better future by investing in the communities where they are located, Days Inn - London (1100 Wellington Rd. S) provides a discounted room rate of $59 for people who reference LHSC.

While this helps people from out-of-town who are visiting a patient at the hospital, the hotel also donates $5 of each of these room rates through the foundation to help further advance the standard of care at LHSC. Since the program began in 2003, Days Inn - London has donated $16,840.
